Three Generations Attend Classes

Education on a family scale is a good thing for this family since they all have to commute each day from Yorktown, Ia., to Northwest Missouri State College and Horace Mann high school. The leader of the group, Mrs. Cassie Whitmore (right), teaches school at Yorktown and is now taking refresher courses at the college. A daughter, Mrs. Irene Whitmore Renshaw (left), is a junior at the college. Mrs. Renshaw's two daughters, Randy and Robin (center), are attending the Horace Mann nursery school. And Mrs. Whitmore's younger daughter, Sharon (second from right) is a student in the Horace Mann seventh grade classes. They sort of keep education in the family.

67 Students Enrolled in Practice Teaching at Laboratory School

BY BILL RAY

One of the most important phases of teacher development, the directed teaching program, is taking place this summer at Horace Mann Laboratory school.

There are 67 students enrolled in the directed teaching course in the first six grades. Since the school is in session for only three periods a day, this means that several of the students of directed teaching are in each classroom for a given period which helps them to become accustomed to working with other faculty members. Grade two, three, four, and six have eleven teachers, while grade one has ten, and grade five has 13.

Shows How Pupils Learn

Prospective teachers enrolled in this program are students who are completing sixty hour Iowa or Missouri certificates, seniors who are just one term away from graduation, and graduating seniors.

This program gives the prospective teacher an opportunity to discover how pupils really learn, what skills and activities are needed at various age levels, and challenges them to find out the benefits of good research as concerns becoming a better teacher. This is accomplished through the cooperative spirit of the supervising teacher and the directed teaching student.

Typical Students Attend

Horace Mann's summer program covers grades one through eight plus a nursery school and kindergarten. The school has one session each day covering the period from 8:30 to 11:30 a. m. The pupils who attend the school are Horace Mann regular term students, Maryville public and parochial school students, and children of commuting college students.

They are a typical group taking additional summer work, and each pupil is assigned to the grade level he had attained in his previous year of schooling. Their work is assigned and the classes conducted in such a way that the pupils think of those taking directed teaching as friends to become acquainted with and a source from which to gather new learning experiences.

Three Levels of Learning

Swimming twice a week and band, both of which are limited to grades four through eight are the outside activities for pupils in summer school.

In each classroom there are three levels of personal learning — the children, the directed teaching student, and the supervising teacher. Suggestions for the improvement

RETURNS FROM WASHINGTON

Miss Chloe Millikan returned Sunday from Washington, D. C. where she spent a week attending the State Presidents convention of the American Association of University Women held in the National Training school at the National Cathedral.

Presidents from the 48 states were present at the conference with members of the National Board and National committee chairmen for this planning meeting.

Classroom Teachers Day to Be July 16

Plans for the annual Classroom Teachers' Day to be held Friday, July 16, are being centered around the speaker, Miss Margaret Clayton, former state president of the Department of Classroom Teachers of Kentucky.

Dr. Sterling Surrey will present the speaker, who has spent the past year at Yale University, at the 10:30 assembly. A luncheon in her honor will be served at the Union Building at noon. The student teachers in seminar, under the direction of H. R. Dieterich, will hear Miss Clayton at 5:00. Other interested persons are invited to attend the seminar.

Committees which have been appointed and are working on final arrangements are as follows: General arrangements, Miss Mary Keith, M. D. Long, Mr. Dieterich; public relations, Robert Skalit, Myrtle Hummer, Alpha O'Day, Paulette Stowell, Carroll Lamphier; hospitality, Neva Ross, Ann Gorsuch; publicity, Miss Olive S. DeLuce; reservations for luncheon, Mrs. Arcille McLaren and Everett W. Brown.

Officers of the Classroom Teachers' are as follows: President, Lillian Wickiser, Smithville; first vice president, Martha Martin, Craig; second vice president, Mrs. Claude McKee, Graham; secretary-treasurer, Pauline Phillips, Ridgeway.

Pitner, Young Author, Gets Omaha Write-Up

In a recent edition of the Omaha World-Herald, a story and picture of Monty Pitner, graduate of 1950, was given first page display.

Featured in the article was how Pitner wrote a one-act play, "The Decision," following a 1950 New Year's wreck in which he was badly injured. In the play a young college student named Eddie lies on a hospital bed attempting to choose between life and death, which are represented in the drama by a blonde and a brunette.

Most of the play takes part in Eddie's subconscious mind. The idea for the production was based on Pitner's accident.

The play will be published this summer. This young author is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Pitner of Essex, Ia.

New Guard Armory Nears Completion

Another new addition on the NWMSC campus will be ready for use in about 30 days.

Headquarters and Headquarters Battery 129th Field Artillery Battalion members, Missouri National Guard, will move from the college gymnasium and the downtown offices into their new home on the northwest corner of the campus.

Moving will take place as soon as the state authorities inspect the building, which should be in early August.

Located in the building are classrooms, a supply room, a kitchen, a rifle range, locker rooms, showers, and an assembly room which is 61' x 90'.

Four offices for the Battalion Headquarters officers and three for the Battery officers will also be housed in the cement block with red facing construction.

Bennett Construction Company, Kansas City, is doing the work on the $170,000 building. W. N. Pritchard and Associates, consulting engineers of Independence, designed the armory. A macadam parking lot, 60' x 100', will be constructed south of the building. It will be completed at the same time as the armory.

Construction began soon after the first spade full of dirt was turned by retired-National Guard Colonel Edward V. Condon, on November 12, 1953. Among other Maryvillians attending the ceremony were Dr. J. W. Jones, College president, Mayor Clyde Roberts, Representative Lauris M. Eck, T. H. Mooberry, Judge Ray Weightman, M. W. Stauffer, and Frank Merenghi.

Major Leigh R. Wilson is commanding officer for the local Guard unit. Other officers include Capt. Everett W. Brown, battery commander; Capt. Vincent G. Meyer, assistant plans and training; Capt. John Liddie, motor officer; Capt. Clifford R. Kimmel and Capt. James E. Cline, liaison officers; Capt. Robert Quinn, executive officer; and Lt. John B. Taylor, communications officer.

There are 18 officers and 90 enlisted men in the 129th F. A. battery.

Books Donated To School Library

Novels . . . essays . . . world . . . almanacs . . . dictionaries . . . foreign books . . . All these and more were donated to the library from the book collection of the late Lucile Brumbaugh, college librarian for nearly 30 years.

Some of the books, which number over 60, are works of Shakespeare, Christopher Morley, Rudyard Kipling, Sir Walter Scott, Charles Dickens, Oscar Wilde, Elizabeth and Robert Browning, Poe, Plato and Emerson.

One of the "Centennial Harpers Magazines" and "A Treasury of American Homes" are among the collection.

Plates for the books have not been received, so they will probably not be ready for use until fall.

Awarded Masters Degree

Kenneth H. Norris, 1941 graduate of Northwest Missouri State college, received his master of arts in education degree from Washington University, St. Louis.

Norris, who received his bachelors degree in education is now residing in Lebanon, Ill. His wife, the former Marjorie Stone, Ridgeway, also graduated from the college in 1941 with a degree in commerce.

Foreign Trees Flowering on College Campus

RAINTREE REIGNS . . . Carol Groom, Carolyn Mix, and Burl Walter admire the clusters of yellow flowers from the Golden Raintree which adorns the main walk from the Administration Building.

Every June for two weeks, the college campus is highlighted by the bright yellow clusters of flowers from the Golden Raintree on the east side of the front walk.

Presented to the college by a St. Joseph lady, the tree was given as a companion to the Chinese Scholar tree, whose mate died soon after planting.

This tree, which is sometimes called a Japanese pagoda tree, is located on the west side of the main walk. The seeds from the two Chinese Scholar trees are said to have come from the garden of the Emperor's Palace in Peking, China. The seeds were sent to Missouri University where they were sown and grown.

Two trees were then sent to each state college. They bloom in August and bear cream colored flowers.

The over-fifteen year old Golden Raintree is a native of China, Korea, and Japan. Its clusters of golden flowers are from eight to 14 inches in length.

"Almost as interesting to watch as the flowers are the pods which develop after the tree blooms," stated Dr. Irene Mueller, biology instructor at the College.

Returns for Commerce Work

Joe Hal Thompson, Maryville, has returned from military service and is enrolled in post-graduate work in commerce. Joe Hal received his degree in 1952.

48 Students Are Named to Honor Roll at College

Names of the Northwest Missouri State College honor students for the second semester of the '53-'54 school year have been released by Dr. W. A. Brandenburg, dean of faculty, at the college.

The freshman class had 15 honoraries, the most from one class. The seniors were next high with 11 academically high students, while the sophomores had 9 honor students and the juniors had 8.

They are as follows: Freshmen—Darlene Coleman, Cameron; Carolyn Curfman, Maryville; Marcia Ely, Hamilton; Sharon Gabbert, Grant City; Donald Harvey, St. Joseph; James Jackson, Skidmore; William LaHue, Langdon; Basil Lister, Clearmont; Charles Pyles, Pattonsburg; Eva Quinn, Albany; Donald Riegel, Corning, Ia.; Janet Trost, Sharpsburg, Ia.; Martin Williford, Burlington Junction; James Wright, Skidmore; Pleasant Zachary, Maryville.

Sophomores—Herbert Anderson, Griswold, Ia.; George Coats, Union Star; Carol Grooms, Maysville; Richard Maeder, St. Joseph; Robert Smith, Maryville; Thomas Stephens, Redding, Ia., Franklin Thackery, Grant City; Russell Thompson, Clearmont; John Whitford, Fairfax.

Juniors—Earl Bridgewater, Hopkins; Terry Bullock, Bethany; James Curry, Oregon; J. D. Hammond, Maitland; Louise Novinger, Gravity, Ia.; John Russell, Maryville; Geraldine Struck, Dexter, Ia.; and Robert Thorne, Siam, Ia.

Seniors—Diane Davenport, Maryville; Cyril Dougherty, Fairfax; Rosa Lee Eivins, Gilman City; Ruth Gammell, Elliott, Ia.; Marilyn Gilliland, Ludlow; Georgia Harmes, Fairfax; Lucile Hunziger, Oregon; Dixie Morehouse, Pickering; Phyllis Riegel, Corning, Ia.; Irene Schmitz, Parnell; Dixie Solonycze, St. Joseph.

Girls Visit Dorm

Doris McKinley, Glidden, Ia.; Joyce Hamilton, and Kathleen Ferguson, Hamburg, Ia., spent the week-end visiting friends at Residence Hall. All three girls will be sophomores next year.

THE STROLLER

The Stroller's salute of the week goes to Ruth Donovan for her braided straw "archery chapeau" with its bright orange pompon. The perfect example of what the well-dressed "female Robin Hoods" are wearing this season.

Esther Hedstrom and company are running a close second to the Traveling Trio from Princeton with their daily trek from Villisca. Marge Wallace, Berneice Guffey, Esther and daughter Mary Lou can find the road blindfolded.

With a square dance, a movie, and a watermelon party all in a week, the students agree campus life in summer is far from dull.

Dick Van Hoover must have a weakness for food in quantity. "Dagwood" sandwiches currently rate the top of his list, exorbitant prices and all.

Music-lover Burl Walter makes those Saturday night jaunts to the Edgewood to get in some extra sessions in dance music. Does that union card make him a celebrity?

Janet Wootten has gone over to the Italian haircut. Not the "shredded" type, just short. Who's to be next?

Monday's vacation was extremely pleasing to the Stroller. Now, how about a poll on student reaction to such holidays?

Works on Masters Degree Four Out of Five In Bruce Family Graduate Together

Mrs. Walter Murrish, the former Lina Foster of Clarinda, Ia., who was graduated in 1949 from the Northwest Missouri State College, is working on a master's degree at Michigan State College, East Lansing.

Mrs. Murrish, who starred in dramatic productions at the college, is now doing work in the children's theater and she attended the Pasadena Playhouse, where she had leading roles. She has also been a leading lady in summer stock. Her husband, Dr. Murrish, is on the faculty at Michigan State.

Nolan Bruce, grad of 1932, who is supervising principal of the elementary schools of Maplewood, Richmond Heights, Mo., was at NWMSC recently for a visit.

Mr. Bruce and three of his sisters, all graduated in '32. Neva and Nina Bruce, twins, now Mrs. Charles Stanfield and Mrs. Fred Garten respectively, and Marjorie Bruce, now Mrs. Howard Cofer, Phoenix, Ariz., and Nolan received their degrees the same year.

Mrs. Cofer was graduated when she was 18. At that time she was said, by a newspaper write-up, to be the youngest ever to graduate from this college.

Mrs. Charles Hoffman, Trenton, was the last in the family to graduate in 1945. Mrs. Stanfield's husband Charles attended NWMSC and his father, W. W. Stanfield, was agriculture instructor.

Mr. Bruce's wife, the former Doris Kendall, also attended the college.

Frank Babb Enrolls At Columbia University

Frank Babb, who received his bachelor's degree in English at the Northwest Missouri State College this spring, has enrolled at Columbia University, New York City, where he will begin work on his master's degree this fall.

Babb, whose home is at Cameron, taught the last semester of the school year in St. Joseph. This summer he is employed at Wallach's in Flushing, Long Island.

His wife, the former Patricia McClaren, graduated from the Northwest Missouri State College in 1953, and this year taught at King City. She is the daughter of Mrs. Arcille McLaren, instructor of the fourth grade at the Horace Mann Laboratory school.

To Teach in Minnesota

Miss Jo Ann Magnuson, Kansas City, who received her bachelor's degree in physical education from the Northwest Missouri State College in 1953, will teach this coming school term at St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn. Miss Magnuson, who taught at Missouri Valley, Ia., this last year, is doing graduate work at Greeley, Colo., this summer.

Appropriate Inscription

Motto Links Learning, Religion

Many college students, faculty members, and laymen have walked into the Administration Building since the year MDCCCCVII and have read the familiar words, "and the truth shall make you free."

Of those who have read this quotation a great number of times, few know the exact source of these seven inspirational words.

Making a 19-year search for the sources of the words, this writer recently has conducted an informal survey of some twenty people, seventeen of which were students, to discover whether or not they knew the source of the quotation. The eldest person asked came the nearest to the answer with "Luke?"; while the youngest person questioned didn't even know that it was a biblical quotation.

But the chief concern of this article isn't that a person knows the exact source of this motto, but that he discovers what "the truth" is and from what one is freed when one knows "the truth."

God's word says, "Search ye the scriptures," and again in I John 4: 1 "try the spirits." God gave us an inquiring mind. He wants us to use it and then give Him the praise and glory when He reveals an understanding to us.

Where, then, does this scripture connect with education? We learn that we must educate the whole child. Kenneth Irving Brown's new book reminds us by its title, "Not Minds Alone," that until the American educational system stresses the spiritual development of the individual, it will never reach its own high goals.

"Education and religion are not in partnership—they are in opposite sides of the same design," is a further conclusion from this book.

Just as Mr. Brown's book is one man's vote for more emphasis upon the spiritual nature of man in our public schools, this is one woman's vote for more witnessing of the spirit of truth in our public schools in every day life.

"Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free," John 8: 22. Indeed an excellent inscription to adorn the front of an educational institution—a place where all seek the truth!

Campus Extra . . .

Students at Southwest Missouri State had the opportunity of seeing American folk singer Jared Reed last week, according to the Southwest Standard in its run-down of assemblies scheduled for the summer session.

The flood situation in Des Moines, Iowa, resulted in the cancellation of an address by WHO newscaster, Jack Shelley, at Kirksville. Teachers College Index also reports the school's first journalism banquet was held June 23.

Western Michigan College is offering a six weeks summer session this year, running from June 21 to July 30. Southwest Missouri State will continue its special August session.

Marilyn Jones is heading the summer staff of the Ball State News in Muncie, Ind. This paper reports that one of its co-eds, Mary Alice Guffigan, is still in contention for the title of "Miss Indiana."

Nine new instructors have joined the faculty of the summer session at Southeast Missouri State, the Capaha Arrow reports. The illness of Dr. Harris, advisor to the Arrow, rated a first page complaint from the staff.

Art Class Uses New Approach

"Democracy" is the theme of the summer project in Miss Olive S. DeLuce's class in Fine Arts II, Introduction of Art, at Northwest Missouri State College.

Each student selected a quotation connected with the democratic way of life and lettered it to make it suitable for framing. Most of the quotations were lettered in black ink with some use of red, or red gold for illumination.

Miss Glenda Sue Rice, Pickering, chose the quotation "A democracy is only as great as the people it represents." "Vigor of government is essential" was lettered by Mrs. Lorene Stanley, King City, while "I disagree absolutely with what you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it," was created by Miss Joyce Naber, Chillicothe.

Visits Campus
Mrs. Nadine Humphrey, class of 1953, Dearborn, Mo., visited friends and former teachers on campus, June 24 and 25.

Trio Gives Varied Musical Program

Organ, piano, and vocal music were presented by Miss Ruth Miller, Kenneth Bird, and Gilbert Whitney, respectively, at the music faculty assembly last Wednesday morning.

"Etude, Opera 10, Number 3," by Chopin and "Toccata and Fugue in D Minor" by Bach—Tausig were the piano selections presented by Mr. Bird.

Mr. Whitney's vocal selections included "Clorinda," Morgan; "Autumn," Lange-Muller; "Non Più Andrai"—"The Marriage of Figaro," Mozart, and "Rich Man," Hageman.

"Prayer and Cradle Song," by Guilmant, "Gavotte" by Martini and "Sonata in C Minor," "Allegro Maestoso," Mendelssohn, were presented by Miss Miller.

Married Women Have Winning Skit At Residence Hall

Coming out on top with the "best in entertainment" at the last dorm party were the married girls, who were victorious over the "unmarrieds."

"This Is Your Life," emceed by Dolores Mather, was the winning skit. Parts of Lucille Hunziger's life portrayed were as follows: Baby, Mrs. Ruth Donovan; School Days, Mrs. Elizabeth Kyle; Sweet Sixteen, Mrs. Maxine Goff; Courtship, Mrs. Robert Sauceman, Mrs. Lela Kish; Graduation, Mrs. Loren Clouse; Sweetheart of Sigma Chi, Mrs. Leola Rager; Bride, Mrs. Sauceman; My Blue Heaven, Mrs. O. A. Kellum; Silver Threads Among the Gold, Mrs. Mary Rose; Old Gray Mare, everyone.

Have Chorus Line

Playing background music were Mrs. Jewell Robinson and Mrs. Clouse.

"Cafe' A-la Resi-dence Hall" was the theme of the unmarried girls' program. Helen Bills and Jerry Sickles were emcees for this group. Members of the chorus line were Phyllis Meadows, Helen Durby, Beverly and Marjorie Thompson.

Helen Bills, Geraldine Sickles, and Rita Hunter gave their rendition of "Five Foot Two," while "Shortnin' Bread" was sung by Dolores Miller, Sally Bolin, Marilyn Gilliland, and Kathy Huff. Kathy also sang a solo and did a dance.

Going-Away Gift

Judges, who were Mrs. J. W. Jones, Mrs. Ruth Burke, and Miss Ruth Miller, chose the winning skit on originality, participation, and costuming.

Miss Rachael Taul, former dean of women, was presented a rose corsage from the group by Marilyn Gilliland. Sally Bolin accompanied all musical numbers and was general chairman of the party.

The next party at the dorm will be given by the contest losers, the single girls.

Alumni Officers Elected

New officers were elected for the Northwest Missouri State College Alumni Association following the annual alumni banquet, which was held in the Union dining room.

Those elected are as follows: President, Vance Geiger, Mount Ida, Ia., class of 1930; secretary, Everett W. Brown, Maryville, class of 1937; treasurer, Miss Laura B. Hawkins, Maryville, class of 1924.

Executive board members elected are Twila Dieterich, Maryville, class of '52; Florene Allen Kyger, Stanberry, '24; and Kent G. Barber, Stanberry, '47.

Intermediate Picnic To Be Held Tomorrow

Elementary education majors, their families, and friends will hold their annual Intermediate Picnic tomorrow night at the College Park at 5:30 p.m.

Besides enjoyment, the purpose of the get-together is to illustrate leadership experience and training. The plan is based on a group of five or six persons comprising a "family group." Each member of the family group is responsible for one particular item on the menu. At the park the supply is combined and the supper is served.

Miss Mary Keith, supervisor of intermediate grades, is the faculty sponsor.

Miss Dykes Attends Press Women Meeting

Miss Mattie M. Dykes of the English department attended the convention of National Press Women in Chicago last week. She was accompanied to the meeting by Mrs. M. E. Ford, Maryville.

Former president of the group, Miss Dykes is now serving as editor of "The Press Women," official organ of the association.

"Comin' Up"

July 7—Summer orchestra assembly at 10:30.

July 8—Intermediate Picnic at 5:30 at the College Park. . . Student-faculty cooler to be held at Residence Hall lobby from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m.

July 13—Movie "Bells on Their Toes" in Horace Mann auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

July 16—Classroom Teachers' Day to be held.

July 20—"Golden Girl" movie to be shown at Horace Mann.

Seniors Elect Officers

Sixty-two graduating seniors held a meeting to elect officers last Wednesday.

Those elected are as follows: President, Bob Andrews, Clearmont; vice president, Irene Schmitz, Parnell; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Alta Wilson, Albany. Dr. John Harr is senior class sponsor.

The class voted to contribute the dues assessment to buy a marker for the Oriental Magnolia tree, which was given to the college by last spring's senior class. The remainder of the money will be contributed to the student loan fund.

Editor Furthers 'J' Work

Kent Kessinger, editor of the Northwest Missourian last semester, is working this summer on the Atchison, Kas., Globe paper. Kent is currently doing a series of articles on the centennial celebration.

His sister, Joy, is a senior at NWMSC during the summer session. Kent is the son of Dale Kessinger, who was Bearcat coach for the past two years.

of teaching are always welcomed by the administration, and many suggestions, after careful evaluation and examination, have been incorporated into the school. Any phase of learning or any method of teaching undergoes a great deal of research and testing before it is used in the school.

Men in the directed teaching program are scarce due to the ill-informed prejudices against men teaching in the elementary school, and the difference in salary schedules. As the head of a household, a man hesitates to prepare himself for a position where the income is not sufficient to meet the needs.

Many Will Receive Degrees

On the other hand, the prejudice against men teachers in the elementary school has been handed down from generation to generation and awaits only the time when sound reasoning and clear thinking will overcome silly superstitions.

For those who complete their work in the directed teaching program, a degree of bachelor of science in education is offered, with a major in elementary education. Many of those who are taking the course in directed teaching this summer will have completed their requirements for graduation and will receive their degrees at the close of the summer term.
